

GOP Demands Kennedy Prove Ban Will Aid U.S. Security

WASHINGTON (P)—Republicans are demanding President Kennedy prove his claim that the limited nuclear test ban treaty will increase U.S. security.

The proof will be sought when military and scientific experts are questioned in hearings on the treaty, said Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

In sending the pact to the Senate Thursday, Kennedy said the ban on atmospheric, space and underwater blasts "will assure the security of the United States better than continued unlimited testing on both sides."

The United States could make further progress in its weapons program if atmospheric tests were continued, the President said, but "so would the Soviet Union and, indeed, so could other nations."

He continued in the 1,500-word message: "It should be remembered that only one atomic test was required to complete the development of the Hiroshima bomb. Clearly the security of the United States—the security of all mankind—is increased if such tests are prohibited."

Underground tests are not barred and the President has said they will be continued.

Later, talking to reporters, Dirksen said:

"I presume that the President is fully prepared, through necessary witnesses, to fortify his avowed faith that our security will be enhanced, instead of impaired, by the provisions of this treaty."

The treaty was signed in Moscow Monday by the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union. To take effect it must be approved by two-thirds of the Senate.

In Washington, Moscow and London Thursday, officials of 34 other nations signed the pact. It is expected to pick up more signatures today and Saturday. The State Department says 62 nations have announced they intend to sign and more than 100 are expected to do so eventually.

After Kennedy sent the treaty to the Senate it was referred immediately to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee where public hearings will start Monday in the big caucus room of the Old Senate Office Building.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, flanked by Undersecretary W. Averell Harriman, who negotiated the agreement in Moscow, and William C. Foster, director of arms control and disarmament, will open the administration's presentation.

On Tuesday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will testify. Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee will sit in on the sessions.

Dirksen made his call for proof of U.S. security after Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., told the Senate that the record on which the treaty must stand or fall has yet to be made.

Goldwater said the Senate must act on facts, not on "assumptions, hopes, fears and fantasy."

Dirksen said many of the questions of senators will be based on their concern "whether our security is involved if we cannot adequately test in the megaton range."

He said some senators were deeply disturbed whether the treaty might bar testing for peaceful purposes. Others, he said, will seek proof of the readiness of the United States to resume atmospheric testing quickly if the agreement is violated.

Kennedy sought to allay concern in his message. He emphasized that no secret agreement was made with the Soviets.

"This treaty is the whole agreement," Kennedy said. "United States negotiators in Moscow were instructed not to make this agreement conditioned upon any other understanding; and they made none. The treaty speaks for itself."

He continued: "This treaty advances, though it does not assure, world peace; and it will inhibit, though it does not prohibit, the nuclear arms race."

"While it will not end the threat of nuclear war or outlaw the use of nuclear weapons, it can reduce world tensions, open a way to further agreements and thereby help to ease the threat of war."

Senate hearings on the treaty are expected to take three weeks following a week of floor debate. The administration is confident that in the end the pact will have the support of more than the required two-thirds of the Senate.

JIM DASHES—You may not have observed it. The thought probably hasn't ever crossed your mind. But you and I, and most others around these United States, are pretty corny folks.

What do you mean, "Corny"? you may indignantly ask, and rightly so. But we're not speaking of the term "corny" as odd-ball, hayseed, or country kernel (pun intended).

What we speak of as being corny pertains to an industry that we in this area are highly involved with. Corn kernels contribute much to summer play, and living on the whole, the year around.

But specifically, from San Diego to Bangor, summer rates as the nation's favorite time for playing. And as corn plants stretch skyward these warm and sunny days, Americans swim, drive, sail, putt, fish, explore, barbecue and sip cool drinks.

And if you didn't realize it, versatile products from corn support a multitude of playtime activities.

As examples, did you know corn is involved for the weekend hobbyist in the sandpaper he uses, paper plates for picnics, insecticides for camping trips, and film for snapshots? Corn starch is used in all these products. It is also used in the manufacture of aluminum—aluminum canoes, sailboat masts, outboard engines and aluminum porch chairs.

Products from corn are used in scores of ways in our autos we drive to sandy beaches. Corn dextrin helped process the leather in our golf bags and sandals and was used as a binder in charcoal briquettes. Cosmetic products, such as the lotions we use to prevent sunburn, frequently contain corn starch. The making of our light cotton or rayon clothing requires starch, as did our comfortable hammocks.

Try to imagine summer without soda, ice cream, beer, pie, candy, chewing gum, marshmallows, peanut butter and jelly, salad dressings, hot dogs, catsup, cookies and fruit cocktail. Such foods, along with several hundred others, usually contain corn syrup or dextrose or oil or starch—and sometimes all four.

Corn also helps produce the poultry, meat, milk, and eggs we need to give us strength for playing, for corn is a major feed of beef, swine, cows, chickens and sheep.

Next time you drive down a highway and see green corn plants stretching acre after uniform acre, remember that the car you are driving, the road map guiding you, the clothes you are wearing and the dinner waiting for you depended in a variety of ways upon products from the golden corn kernel.

And we here in the Dixon area, who depend a large extent on corn for our livelihood, shouldn't complain too hard the next time someone calls us "corny."

Meteor Shower Starts Saturday

NEW YORK (P)—The Parseid meteor shower, also known as the "Tears of St. Lawrence", makes its annual appearance Saturday night. The shower will last for five days.

The celestial fireworks, one of 15 such annual occurrences by groups of meteors, will be visible in the northeast sky. However, all but the brightest of meteors will be dimmed by the first quarter moon, which rises next week after midnight.

It is estimated that 30 or 40 meteors will form the showers each hour and will reach its climax on Monday night.

... mail bags missed in greatest train robbery

Losses in Great Train Robbery Near $7 Million

LONDON (P)—Known losses in history's greatest train robbery approached the $7 million mark today. Scotland Yard and police of 14 counties hunted the gang that ambushed the Glasgow-London mail train.

As bank after bank reported on the cash shipments seized by bandits at a rural junction Thursday, the total climbed to 2,472,000 pounds ($6,921,000).

Unofficial estimates placed the loot at a staggering 3 million pounds ($8,400,000).

Most of the loot in the holdup near Cheddington, 40 miles northwest of London, comprised used banknotes, British paper currency. The currency, still negotiable, was being shipped by banks to London to be destroyed.

The Midland Bank said its loss ran around 500,000 pounds ($1,400,000). The National Commercial Bank of Edinburgh estimated its loss at 320,000 pounds ($996,000).

The National Provincial Bank said it had 1,064,000 pounds ($2,979,200) in the second coach. Barclays announced it lost 514,000 pounds ($1,439,000). A spokesman said "it may be a little more but we are insured."

Three other banks reported smaller losses.

Several British newspapers said the total may reach 3 million pounds.

Rewards offered by the Post Office, insurance companies and banks for apprehension of the robbers climbed to a total of 60,000 pounds ($168,000).

The gang of about 15 masked bandits halted the 10-coach "traveling post office" before dawn on a lonely stretch of countryside 40 miles northwest of London. The bandits overpowered the two train crewmen in the locomotive, held postal sorters in the first two coaches at bay, and escaped with 120 bags of registered mail, including gems and quantities of negotiable banknotes.

"It was a brilliantly planned operation," said a senior police officer.

It was the first successful robbery of a mail train in the 125 years the traveling post offices have been in operation.

Police were convinced that the gang had been told when and where to strike by an employee of either the Post Office or the government-operated railroads. The rest of the train—containing some 70 unarmed postal sorters—was ignored. The richest haul came from the second coach which together with the coach ahead and the locomotive was uncoupled and moved a mile down the track to be unloaded.

The coup was carried out in 15 minutes with split-second timing probably based on months of planning and spying on the line. Only afterwards did people living in the nearby village of Cheddington remember men who came to take movies of the trains rattling by.

The train engineer, Jack Mills, 58, was recovering in a hospital with eight stitches in his scalp. Two of the masked men jumped into his cab, clubbed him with iron bars and handcuffed him to the fireman, Dave Whitby.

"Dave and I were ordered to lie face down in the grass as about 15 other men swarmed aboard the train and smashed open the two coaches with pickaxes," said Mills.

"Two of the gang stood guard over Dave and I and said if we tried to make a move we would get another beating."

"Dave and I lay very still. I'd have one beating and didn't want another."

Most London newspapers carried editorials demanding an overhaul of railroad security measures. Some suggested that mail trains carry armed guards. None do at present.

Much of the loot was paper currency being returned by Scottish banks to the London mint for repulping. Officials said the banks must bear the loss because the notes had not reached the central bank.

DISEASE STIFLES TINY HEART

Kennedy Infant Dies In Boston Hospital

Funeral Service Saturday

BOSTON (P)—The new son of President and Mrs. Kennedy died early today while top medical men battled the lung disease that stifled his heart. The President stood only a few feet away when his son's 39-hour battle for life ended.

Patrick Bouvier Kennedy died at 4:04 a.m. (EDT) and press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen of the baby's death in a hastily-called news conference at the Boston Children's Hospital Medical Center at 4:26 a.m.

The President flew out of Boston a few hours later to carry the tragic news to his wife, recuperating from the Caesarian delivery Wednesday at Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod.

At Otis, Salinger told newsmen the death was attributed to hyaline membrane disease, a membrane formation in the lungs and an ailment dreaded in premature babies.

The President arrived at the big air base 65 miles south of Boston at 9:30 a.m. and spent more than two hours with his wife. Then he departed with his two brothers—Atty. Gen. Robert and Sen. Edward—presumably for the summer White House on Squaw Island, off Cape Cod.

A Mass of the Angels will be held Saturday in Richard Cardinal Cushing's private chapel at his residence.

The cardinal will officiate at the service, which will be a private one, presumably only for members of the immediate family.

The President was only a few steps away from the big breathing apparatus that held his son when doctors told him the breathing difficulty had overstrained the child's tiny heart.

Reportedly, the news of her baby's death was kept from Mrs. Kennedy until the President could reach her in a special wing of the Otis hospital. Increased guard details kept newsmen from gathering too close to the building in the early-morning hours.

The President spent the night in special quarters of the medical center.

Only Thursday afternoon, doctors placed the child in the Hyperbaric chamber, a submarine-like device 31 feet long and 8 feet in diameter to aid his lungs to breathe. The apparatus is the only one of its kind in existence.

"The struggle of the baby boy to keep breathing was too much for his heart," Salinger told newsmen in a packed room at the famed children's hospital.

The President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who himself became a father for the eighth time a few weeks ago, and presidential adviser Davis Powers were with the President when doctors told him the boy was dead.

The President and his wife lost a child in 1956 when Mrs. Kennedy suffered an internal hemorrhage. The child was born dead in August 1956 when it was delivered several weeks prematurely. Mrs. Kennedy

Rusk, Nik Hold Talks On Cold War

GAGRA, U.S.S.R. (P)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Premier Khrushchev sat down today for a short-sleeve conference on cold war issues at the premier's luxurious estate overlooking the Black Sea.

Rusk arrived in Gagra Thursday. After a night at a government guest house he drove in an open convertible to the estate.

Khrushchev and his family awaited the American Cabinet member in the estate's recreation building. The premier walked down the steps of the building with two of his small grandsons, Vanya and Nikita, flanking him.

The premier introduced the boys to the secretary and warmly greeted members of Rusk's party. They included Assistant Secretary of State Richard Davis, U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler, Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow and now Rusk's top adviser on Soviet affairs, and their wives.

Khrushchev good naturedly lined up with his guests on the steps for a dozen Russian and American photographers.

After the picture taking, Khrushchev led Rusk to the second floor veranda of the recreation building. Conference tables had been set up facing the sun-bathed Black Sea.

Rusk flew here Thursday from the Baltic seaport of Leningrad, making a 30-minute stop in Moscow to pick up Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev and Rusk were expected to talk for about two or three hours and then retire to the glassed-in veranda of the main house for lunch.

It was assumed Rusk and Khrushchev again would range over major East-West issues, including the future of divided Berlin and Khrushchev's proposals for an East-West nonaggression pact and stationing of observers on both sides of the Iron Curtain to guard against surprise attack.

No major decisions were expected to result from the conference. Its purpose was to see whether a road has been opened for fruitful negotiations in the wake of the limited nuclear test ban agreement.

Rusk and Gromyko were to fly back to Moscow after the meeting with Khrushchev, and Gromyko was to be the American secretary's host at dinner tonight.

Rusk goes to Bonn Saturday to assure West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that the test ban treaty in no way changes the West's determination not to recognize Communist East Germany, which signed the treaty Thursday.

State Gets Moist Heat Treatment

By The Associated Press

Illinois got the moist heat treatment today—increasing humidity and scattered showers along with another 90-degree afternoon.

Today's light showers, mostly in the northern half of the state, were forerunners of more general thunderstorms forecast for tonight. The Weather Bureau said a cool front will be reaching northwestern Illinois during the night.

Temperatures ran up to 90 or higher Thursday in about the southern half of the state and along the Mississippi River clear to Dubuque. The peaks included 98 at Quincy, 96 at St. Louis and 95 at Vandalia. Chicago's Lake Michigan waterfront was 20 degrees cooler at 76.

Rantoul was the only Illinois weather station reporting rain in the last 24 hours. It measured .01 of an inch.

Car on Pond?

SMITHFIELD, R.I. (P)—Police got an excited call reporting a car was in Stillwater pond with its headlights on.

Policemen and firemen raced to the pond Thursday night.

They found two eel fishermen, each with a lantern, fishing from a bank.

Dixon Truck Driver 'Good' After Crash

MILLEDGEVILLE—A Dixon truck driver, Shelly Maves, Plum Hollow Road, is listed in good condition at KSB Hospital today after an accident today three miles east of here on the Polo-Milledgeville blacktop.

Maves was injured when the truck he was driving went out of control on wet pavement and traveled 400 to 500 feet into a wormfield.

The truck caught fire and was listed as a total loss.

Hospital authorities said Maves has lacerations on the left knee and right arm and X-rays were taken to determine other injuries.

The Milledgeville Fire Department was called to extinguish the fire.

From One Extreme To Other

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (P)—Garland County, declared a disaster area because of a recent flood, again has been declared a disaster area—because of drought.

The Farmers Home Administration announced Thursday that farmers were eligible for federal loans at 3 per cent interest because of a drought that lasted from October 1962 until July 1963.

The rain that broke the drought caused the flood that qualified businessmen for the same type loans from the Small Business Administration.

Lee Board Authorizes New Radio System for Sheriff

The Lee County Board of Supervisors Thursday authorized the purchasing committee to buy a radio system for the Lee County Sheriff's office.

Sheriff John Quest told the supervisors at the July meeting his office would need new radio equipment by December 1 to comply with the Federal Communications Commission's regulations.

Three bids for the system were submitted and opened at the meeting Thursday. These were: RCA—$9,824.96; Motorola—$10,271; and G.E.

—$9,219.11. Quest said he did not have any preference.

The equipment to be purchased will include two base units, one for the courthouse office and the other for the jail; and three mobile units. Two of the mobile units will be used in Sheriff's cars and the third will be used by Lee County Conservation Officer James Liston.

Chairman Edward A. Hollenbeck asked the supervisors to give consideration to the purchase of a building at 919 First St., owned by the Public Service Co. During the noon hour Thursday, the supervisors were taken on a conducted tour of the building.

Marshall Wilcox, assistant Dixon Township supervisor and chairman of the Building Committee, said he did not have a report on the Lee County Annex. However he disclosed that a request for bids on remodeling work would be made soon.

In other action, the supervisors approved a $50 per month pay hike for Lee County Nursing Home Superintendent Theodore McPherson. The boost is retroactive to July 1. At the July meeting the supervisors voted to increase the salaries of nursing aides at the home.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

He Helped Me See Life Through . . .

THE EYES OF GOD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I was a little girl, then. The pews at our church were rough wooden benches, and my feet wouldn't reach the floor.

But, as though it were yesterday, I remember his sermon. About a woman who poured oil on the feet of Jesus. Some people said this was a wasteful thing to do. The oil was expensive; the money might have been given to the poor . . . But Jesus wasn't angry with the woman!

"In the eyes of God," our old minister said, "the most precious treasure is the love in a human heart."

No single thought has influenced my life more than that one. Most of my happiness—all of my strength when sorrows come—have been somehow entwined with that simple truth. I shudder at times to think; what if that day I had not been there?

A sermon, a prayer, a Bible passage does not touch the same chord in every heart. But as you seek each Sunday to see life through the eyes of God, there will come mighty visions stirring the depths of your soul.

Oregonian In Rockford Hospital

OREGON—Larry Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, is a patient in Rockford Memorial Hospital, Rockford, where he underwent knee surgery Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Apple and four children returned Friday from a three-week vacation trip which included a visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Ollmann, La Mirada, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lumsden and Mrs. John Colson, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Zivney, Rock Falls, attended the annual picnic of the Department of Illinois Woman's Relief Corps at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Atkins, Havana, on Tuesday. This picnic has annually been held at the Widow's Home at Wilmington until the home was closed last year, and the occupants moved to Quincy. Mrs. Atkins is the national secretary of the W.R.C.

The Los Angeles Rams won only one of 14 National Football League games last season.

REV. DEAN SPENCER

Northside Baptists Call Pastor

Rev. Dean Spencer recently accepted a call to the pastorate of the Northside Baptist Church, which is temporarily meeting in the Truman School.

The Rev. Mr. Spencer, prior to coming to Dixon, served the Grace Baptist Church, Winchester, for three years. During his pastorate there, a new church structure was erected.

The Rev. Mr. Spencer is married, the father of four children. The new pastor and his family are residing at 503 College Ave.

No Church Services in Lee Center

LEE CENTER—The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Kennedy and family will be on vacation the next two weeks and there will be no church services or Sunday School in the Lee Center Congregational Church Aug. 11 and 18.

The youth group from the church returned Friday from Shannondale, Mo., where they spent a week in work and play. Those who attended included Carla Albers, Carolyn Shaws, Shirley Morris, Cynthia Wellman, Linda Vivian, Dwight Page, Paul Moore, Gene Ackerson, Bob Vivian, Gary Coakley, Timothy Deem, Albert Hill, Donna Albers, the Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy and Marilyn and Ronald Baylor.

FORLI, Italy (P)—Two strong earthquake shocks caused widespread alarm today throughout a tourist-jammed 200-mile triangle of north-east Italy, from Florence to Trieste and north to Bolzano.

Chimneys were knocked down, cornices crashed into the streets, walls of some old houses cracked, but there were no casualties.

ASUNCION, Paraguay (P)—President Alfredo Stroessner again has extended for 90 days the state of siege that has prevailed almost continuously for more than 10 years of his dictatorship.

The government said the 90-day extension, the usual term, was necessary to guarantee Paraguayans "their full legal activities in these moments when progress, welfare and tranquility rule the country."

The state of siege in effect suspends all constitutional guarantees.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (P)—The Haitian exiles who invaded Haiti reportedly have taken to the hills to wage guerrilla warfare against the government of President Francois Duvalier.

Reports from Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, indicated the drive which exile spokesmen had said the invaders were making across northern Haiti had fizzled or been dispersed by Duvalier's forces.

LONDON (P)—A coroner's jury deliberated for only three minutes today and found that Dr. Stephen Ward committed suicide.

The 50-year-old society osteopath and artist, a central figure in Britain's biggest political scandal of the century, died Aug. 3 of an overdose of drugs after 80 hours in a coma.

A few hours after he was found unconscious on July 31, a jury convicted him of two charges of living off the immoral earnings of prostitutes Christine Keeler and Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies.

Venetian traders took coffee to Europe early in the 17th Century.

J. Edward Day Spends Last Day on Job

WASHINGTON (P)—J. Edward Day steps out of political life today after 2½ years as postmaster general.

On his last day on the job there wasn't even a promising rumor afloat as to who will succeed him.

Informed sources said President Kennedy hasn't decided on a successor. Speculation arose that the new postmaster general might be a Negro—first ever to hold a Cabinet post.

When Kennedy took office he first offered the job to Negro Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., but Dawson turned it down. The President is known to want to put a Negro in his Cabinet before leaving office. He had earmarked Robert C. Weaver, housing administrator, for the Cabinet, but that plan fell through when Congress refused to create a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs.

Day is leaving the $25,000-a-year job for a lucrative practice of law in Washington.

Newspapers Offer Reward To Solve Deaths

ROCKFORD, Ill. (P)—The Rockford Register-Republic and the Rockford Morning Star have offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to solution of two slayings which took place a year ago.

The battered and shot body of Octavio (Chico) Martinez, 32, a furniture finisher, was found Aug. 8, 1962, near a country road south of Rockford.

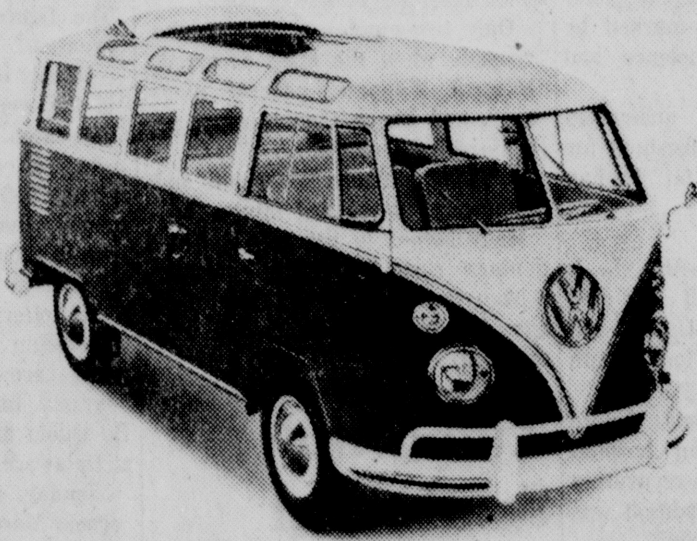

A week later, the body of a woman acquaintance of Martinez, Ann Bergman, 18, who was reported missing the day Martinez' body was discovered, was found near Byron, Ill.

Law enforcement agencies investigating the killings had been consulted and had encouraged the offer of a reward, E. Kenneth Todd, publisher of the newspapers, said.

Todd said that authorities have informed the newspapers "... that

Pastor Can't Walk; But He Can Fly

By BOB HARING

TULSA, Okla. (P)—The Rev. Russell Heriford can't walk—but he can fly.

The Rev. Mr. Heriford, 38, is a paraplegic—paralyzed from the waist down by World War II wounds. But that does not stop him from serving as a minister in the Nazarene Church—or from piloting an airplane.

Heriford was a tank man when U.S. armored forces crossed the Rhine River into Germany. His tank had started across an open field when machine guns began firing. Suddenly Heriford found himself on the ground.

"There was no pain—no remembrance of the bullet rolling me off the tank," he recalls. "I tried to get up, but nothing moved except my head and left arm."

The bullet had entered his right shoulder, pierced his right lung—and damaged his spinal cord. "I was determined not to be a captive of the wheelchair," Heriford says.

He learned to drive a car, then won a license to fly a simple type airplane. In 1958, he was licensed to fly a more complicated type of plane, adapted with a hand control for the rudders, which normally are operated by the feet.

Heriford met his wife, Kittie, while he was in a Veterans Hospital in Memphis, Tenn. They have two adopted sons, Tommy, 7, and Jimmy, 9.

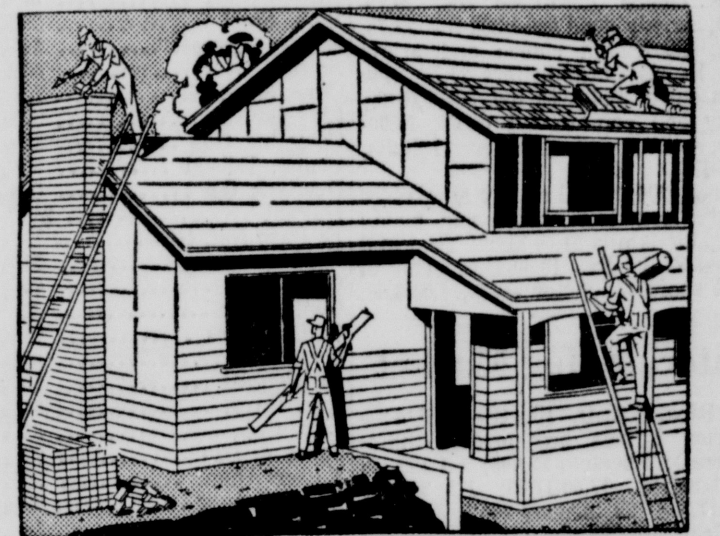

The Herifords moved to Tulsa in 1948, then in 1951 went to New Mexico, where he worked for the Air Force.

But in 1953 Heriford decided "the Lord was calling me to preach." He entered Pasadena College in California and was graduated in 1957. They recently returned to Oklahoma, but, after a few months in Tulsa moved to nearby Inola because it gave Heriford a handier place to land his plane. He and his family fly to Tulsa for Sunday service. He also flies around the United States and Canada to preach.

Lights Still Rampant in Fairfield Area

FAIRFIELD, Ill. (P)—Wayne County residents, who officials said are spending more time watching the sky, have reported strange lights for the third time this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mason of Fairfield told authorities they saw a cross-shaped light with a comet-like tail speeding northwest early today. Rural residents over a wide area reported two lights Wednesday night, one of them kite-shaped.

The light sightings began Monday when a Keenes family said it watched a crescent light. A teen-age motorist said the crescent pursued him at high speed.

Officials said the county's light stories have led to similar reports from surrounding counties.

A group of Flora residents 25 miles north of Fairfield reported seeing lights similar to those seen Wednesday in Fairfield.

Paul C. Brock of Albion said he and neighbors saw a brilliant light that was stationary for five minutes. It turned red, he said, and floated away making an engine noise.

Authorities trying to track down the lights' origins said amateur scientists are offering much free advice.

An unidentified man telephoned Thursday from Skokie near Chicago, they said, saying he is certain he can prove the lights are flying saucers.

also suffered a miscarriage in 1953. Doctors awakened the President at 2:10 a.m. when the child's condition worsened.

Almost immediately after his birth on Wednesday afternoon, five and one-half weeks ahead of schedule, doctors determined the child suffered from a respiratory affliction.

A police-escorted ambulance sped the child from the hospital at Otis Air Force Base to the Boston hospital less than five hours after his birth. Teams of specialists gathered quickly to aid the child.

News of The Nation

WASHINGTON (P)—Julian Coe Jett Jr., 18, Atlanta, Ga., was announced Thursday night the top winner of the 12th Annual National Teen-age Safe Driving Road-E-O.

Jett, who scored 889 points out of a possible 1,000, was awarded a $2,000 college scholarship.

Second place went to Ross Bottriff, 17, Ottumwa, Iowa, who scored 874 points.

Ralph Priebe, 18, Pueblo, Colo., placed third with 862 points. Among the high scorers was William Wayland, Macomb, Ill.

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich. (P)—A mess officer came down with infectious hepatitis and nearly 500 members of the Ohio National Guard had their training disrupted Thursday.

But medical officials assured there was little chance of an epidemic, and the battalion involved was back in business after a short break.

Medics evacuated and quarantined the field area the battalion had occupied. Gamma globulin was given everyone who had come in contact with the sick man.

CINCINNATI (P)—It's a weekend reunion in Cincinnati for singer Rosemary Clooney, her husband, actor Jose Ferrer, their five youngsters and Miss Clooney's family and friends.

Miss Clooney and Ferrer told newsmen they had quietly reconciled and canceled their California divorce decree several months ago—a few days before it was to become final.

NEW YORK (P)—An Associated Press photo was transmitted Thursday by the new Syncom satellite from Lakehurst, N.J., to Lagos, Nigeria—the first news service picture to be sent by synchronous satellite.

The demonstration picture showed Chief S. O. Adebore, Nigerian ambassador to the United Nations, and Ayemka Azikiwe, son of the Nigerian general of Nigeria, in the U.N. building.

WASHINGTON (P)—There is a firm belief in diplomatic circles that the United States and Communist Hungary will resume full diplomatic relations, probably by the end of this summer.

The belief persists despite State Department denials. Relations between the two sank to a low point in 1956 after Russian troops crushed the Hungarian revolt.

The American minister, Edward T. Wales, refused to present his credentials to the Russian-backed government. Since then, a charge d'affaires has headed the U.S. legation, a sign of tense diplomatic relations.

NEW YORK (P)—Civil rights demonstrators and the White Castle diner chain have reached a tentative agreement after a month-long dispute.

Terms of the agreement were not made public, but it presumably provides for the hiring of more Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Picketing at the White Castle diner in the Bronx has been marked by several outbreaks of violence and numerous arrests.

The agreement was announced Thursday night by a spokesman for the City Commission on Human Rights.

LEXINGTON, Neb. (P)—Mrs. L. B. Borge, 50, Park Ridge, Ill., has died of injuries suffered in a U.S. 30 collision July 30 in which four others lost their lives.

Mrs. Borge died shortly before midnight in a Lexington hospital where her husband, 61, is recovering from his injuries. His condition was described as good Thursday.

Killed in the crash was Mrs. Martin L. Barton and her three sons of Stamford, Conn.

Okoboji Residents Little Wary

OKOBOJI, Iowa (P)—Nature is giving the Okoboji Summer Theater a hand with its staging this summer—and residents here are a little apprehensive about what may be coming next.

During July a storm blacked out the theater during a performance of "Dark at the Top of the Stairs." The weather turned hot and sent the mercury up to 89 degrees Tuesday—just in time for the opening of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

Now the townspeople are pondering what wondrous things the weatherman may have in mind for the last play of the season, which opens two weeks from now. It's "The Miracle Worker."

Blast Rips Downstate Plant Area

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (P)—A thundering blast Thursday night at a plant near Edwardsville which makes rocket fuel and explosives caused damage estimated at "many thousands of dollars" in Edwardsville and the surrounding area.

No one was seriously injured. The blast, heard in a radius of almost 50 miles, shattered store fronts and windows in at least 25 Edwardsville business buildings.

Edwardsville Mayor Raymond O. Rodgers declared a temporary state of emergency to discourage looting. The entire 10-man Edwardsville police was called out and augmented by sheriff's deputies and state police.

Cause of the explosion in a magazine of the Propellor Division of the Chromalloy Corp., has not been determined. The FBI investigated to check possible sabotage but an FBI agent said today that organization "has no further interest in the explosion." About 80 per cent of the plant's business is with the government.

Among the products made at the plant are rocket fuel propellant and cartridge-actuating devices for military jet plane ejection seats.

Edwardsville fire Chief Edward Coolbaugh said he was told by a plant spokesman one year ago that the magazine held rocket fuel, an explosive called "composition B" and "prima cord," an explosive detonating cord.

The chief said he got this information after his department extinguished a fire near the magazine which blew up Thursday night.

Only two employees were on the grounds when the blast occurred, Edward Williams, general manager, and Bruce Cumberledge, an engineering technician.

Williams suffered minor cuts and Cumberledge escaped injury. Many homes in the area suffered damage such as cracked plaster, broken windows and structural damage, but no offplant injuries were reported.

Autograph Sends Girl To Hospital

DANVILLE, Ill. (P)—An autograph of TV comedian Jerry Van Dyck cost Brenda Cox a trip to the hospital.

Brenda, 12, just got Van Dyck's autograph, as he made a guest appearance Wednesday in his home town, when she was caught up in a crowd milling about the comedian and fell into a picket fence injuring her back.

The comedian said he would visit her in the hospital.

Rochelle Men Face Hearing

ROCHELLE — Operators of two of the three taverns involved in a July gambling raid in Rochelle will face liquor commission hearings at 10 a.m. Tuesday, according to Mayor Harold Moore, Rochelle liquor commissioner.

Donald Dabb, operator of the Hub Tavern, and James Thomas, licensee and operator of the Cherry Ave. Tap, are scheduled to appear at the hearing.

Carlos Woolbright, Hillcrest village board president, said no action will be taken against the Welcome Inn, Hillcrest, the third tavern involved, until court action is completed.

The hearings stem from the July arrest of eight men who were charged with gambling in the taverns. Two of the men, Oliver Wooten, 27, Rochelle, and Earl Melton, 30, rural Rochelle, pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined in Ogle County Court. The other men are to appear Aug. 16.

Accidents Reported by State Police

No injuries were reported and no arrests made following a minor accident Thursday night on Alt. 30 at a drive-in entrance.

Darlene Haas, Amboy, was driver of an auto which was making a left turn into the drive-in when it was struck in the rear by an auto driven by Don Phalen, 20, Dixon, according to State Police.

Damage was estimated at $30 to the Haas auto and $75 to the Phalen car.

OREGON—Gordon Creps, 35, Dixon, was arrested for improper passing Thursday morning after an accident two miles north of Oregon on Rt. 2.

State Police said the Creps auto was passing an auto driven by Don Cliff, Rockford, when it went out of control on slippery pavement and hit an approaching auto driven by Robert Gordy, 32, Dixon.

Damage was estimated at $50 to the Cliff auto; $35 to the Creps car, and $1,000 to the Gordy vehicle.

Judge Bars Parents From Interference

CHICAGO (P)—A Chicago judge, in hopes of preventing a divorce, has ordered two sets of parents not to communicate or interfere with the marriage of a young suburban couple.

Judge Charles R. Barrett of Superior Court, in issuing the order Thursday, said he thinks family interference causes half of all domestic breakups.

Then he ordered the parents of Richard H. Pearson, Jr., 33, and his wife, Sandra Lee, 21, of Lyons to leave the couple alone for 90 days. The bride, when called to testify on her motion for temporary support, had shouted, "I want my husband back. I want my husband back."

Judge Barrett also ordered the couple to return to the bride's parents a 1963 auto which they gave the couple and furniture which was a gift from the parents when the couple were wed March 2.

An attorney for Pearson told the court that Mrs. Pearson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carney of Evergreen Park, had advised the bride not to clean house, cook meals, dress or do anything without their consent.

The bride lashed out at the house watching television, the attorney said, and one week cooked only two meals for her chemist husband.

The attorney also acknowledged that the bridegroom's parents, also of Evergreen Park, also interfered with the marriage.

The couple left the courtroom arm in arm.

Judge Has Decision Made for Him

CHICAGO (P)—Judge William M. Barth of Traffic Court was pondering the sentence to mete out to a suburban motorist when he passed by the courtroom lockup Thursday.

He pondered no longer. As he passed, Judge Barth said, he overheard the man bragging to a fellow offender about his offense.

Judge Barth sentenced the motorist, Ralph E. Turner, 32, of Blue Island, to a year at the state prison farm at Joliet and ordered a psychiatric examination for him.

Turner had pleaded guilty to charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving while his license was revoked, failure to have a driver's license, and driving through a red traffic light at high speed.

Hurricane Arlene Hits Bermuda

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Hurricane Arlene slammed into Bermuda today with 80-mile-an-hour winds.

The Miami Weather Bureau said the eye of the hurricane, around which the highest winds raged, was directly over the island chain 670 miles southeast of New York at 11 a.m.

Wind instruments there registered gusts of 80 miles an hour and higher. Because of the relatively small size of the storm, and its fast, 22-mile-an-hour movement, the maximum blow was not expected to last long.

The hurricane was not a threat to the coast of the United States. It was moving toward the northeast, away from this country.

Miss Benson Weds Edward C. Struhs Saturday

In an afternoon wedding performed Saturday by the Rev. Harold R. Dude in the First Methodist Church, Miss Sandra Kay Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson, became the bride of Edward C. Struhs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Struhs.

Kirby Holland, vocalist for the double-ring ceremony, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Prayer" with organ accompaniment provided by Mrs. J. H. Hughes.

Church Decorations

Bows of white satin trimmed the pews of the sanctuary, and the altar held twin arrangements of white gladioli flanked by seven-branched candelabras holding lighted white tapers.

Saturday's bride, given in marriage by her father and attended by Mrs. Donald Hess as matron of honor and Miss Donna Crader and Miss Bonnie Taylor, bridesmaids, was attired in a floor length gown fashioned of white silk mist taffeta featuring chantilly lace trim. The basque bodice was styled with a scooped neckline and tapered sleeves, and the bouffant lace-trimmed skirt extended to form a sweep train. Four tiers of English illusion formed her veil which cascaded from a pearl and crystal crown, and her bridal bouquet held Amazon lilies, stephanotis and blue forget-me-nots with accents of ivy and satin ribbons. The diamond pendant she wore was a gift from the bridegroom.

Identical street length sheaths of pastel blue dacron styled with organza and net overskirts were worn by the bride's three attendants. Their colonial bouquets combined white and blue carnations tied with blue ribbons, and their headresses were matching blue crowns with attached circular veils.

Miss Candie Johnson, cousin of the bride, as flower girl for the ceremony, wore a dress of white dacron highlighted by a pastel blue sash and carried a miniature basket filled with white rose petals.

Serving Mr. Struhs as best man was Thomas Cline, and Robert Benson Jr., brother of the bride, and Donald Hess acted as groomsmen. Wedding guests were ushered by James Struhs and Thomas Struhs, brothers of the bridegroom, and his cousin, Bobby Wallace, was ring-bearer.

Pink accessories and a corsage of rose cymbidium orchids and ivy accented the pink and white sheer cotton dress worn by Mrs. Benson for her daughter's wedding, and to complement her frock of beige and gold linen, Mrs. Struhs chose green accessories and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids and ivy.

For the reception held in the church parlor following the service and attended by 200 guests, the refreshment table was centered with a four-tiered blue and white wedding cake flanked by blue tapers. Miniature figures of a bridal couple topped the cake and the base was encircled by a garland of blue and white carnations and huckleberry. Miss Karen Friel and Miss Sandra Grube poured punch and coffee, and cake was served by Miss Diane Haig and Mrs. Richard Sarver. Guests from Dixon, Sterling, DeKalb, Rock Falls, Rockford, Evanston, Pontiac, Elgin, Freeport, Amboy, Chicago and from Beatrice, Neb., were registered by Miss Lori Johnson, and presiding at the gift table were Mrs. George Stevens and Miss Jody Marschang, Sterling. Members of the Methodist WSCS were in charge of serving the reception guests.

Wedding Trip

A navy blue and white cotton ensemble was worn with accessories of white and a shoulder corsage of Amazon lilies by the new Mrs. Struhs when the couple departed on a wedding trip to Minnesota and Canada. A 1961 graduate of Dixon High School, she is employed as a secretary in the office of the Illinois Division of Highways, Dixon, where they will be residing at 1109 Ogletree Place. Mr. Struhs graduated in 1960 from the Dixon school and is an office employee at the Northwestern Steel and Wire Company, Sterling.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the former Miss Benson, included miscellaneous showers arranged by her matron of honor and Mrs. Charles Marshall, and a dinner and shower given at the Brown Shingle by members of the Division of Highways office staff.

Area Golfers Are Guests at Country Club

Mrs. Joseph Heaton and Mrs. James Hey, co-chairmen for Wednesday's "Pine Day" at the Dixon Country Club, were assisted by Mrs. George Vermazen and Mrs. Warren Walder, score keepers, and Mrs. Robert Boss, Mrs. William Cies and Mrs. Martin Teyman who were in charge of luncheon arrangements and table decorations. Refreshments were served on the golf course by Miss Sue Dewey and Miss Julie Heaton.

Nine area clubs were represented by 92 golfers competing for awards, and Mrs. Leon Hubbs, Dixon, won the prize for low gross with a score of 90. With a score of 76, Mrs. Gordon Yeazel, Dixon, won the low net award.

Mrs. Helen Austin, Morrison Country Club, won the low putts prize for nine holes of golf, and in 18-hole competition the low putts prize went to Mrs. Loretta Paetz of Emerald Hill Club. Birdies were also carded by Mrs. Paetz, Mrs. Marge Albrecht of the Princeton Club, and Mrs. A. N. Kennedy, Dixon.

Invited by the hostess club to participate in the event were golfers from Emerald Hill Club, Amboy's Shady Oaks Club, Rock River Club and clubs in Morrison, Prophetstown, Earlville, Princeton and Freeport.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Miss Kay Dees

Miss Katherine Dees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Dees, who will exchange marriage vows with Ronald Treadway, son of the O. G. Treadways, Chicago, Saturday in the First Methodist Church, was honored at a recent breakfast and bridal shower held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Tavenner and arranged by Mrs. Tavenner and her daughter, Louise.

The bride-to-be was also guest of honor at a dessert luncheon and kitchen shower given by Mrs. C. R. Collins and Mrs. William Thompson Monday evening in the Collins home when guests included friends of the honoree and their mothers, Mrs. Dees and Mrs. Treadway.

Miss Dees and her fiancé will be honored again tonight at a wedding rehearsal dinner in Lincoln Manor to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Treadway for members of the bridal party and relatives of the honorees.

Club Committee Members Attend Tuesday Meeting

Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich, chairman of the Dixon Woman's Club membership committee, and Mrs. Murray Wentling were hostesses to committee members at a Tuesday morning breakfast in the Wentling cottage on Rock River.

Plans to secure new club members during the approaching season were discussed during a brief business meeting followed by games when prizes were won by Mrs. Frank McEneaney, Mrs. Hazel Stevens, Mrs. Theodore Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Earl Slagle Sr., Mrs. Earl Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Teachout and Mrs. Harold Phillips. Mrs. Herbert Smith also attended the special meeting, and committee members unable to be present were Mrs. Lloyd Duffy, Mrs. Frank Perry, Miss Frances Patrick, Mrs. Day Welty and Mrs. Howard Morey Jr.

Membership progress reports will be given at the next meeting when Mrs. Phillips will entertain the group in the Phillips cottage.

Bridge-Luncheon Is Arranged for Who's New Club

Mrs. F. K. Slack presided at Tuesday's meeting for the Who's New Club which followed a luncheon attended by club members and a guest, Mrs. Stanley King, in the Grand Detour Dining Room.

Arrangements for the luncheon were made by Mrs. Wilbur Stitzel Jr., chairman, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Lawrence, Mrs. Charles Love, Mrs. Jack Smalter, Mrs. Willis Loof and Mrs. Donald Dell.

Games of bridge followed the meeting and prizes were won by Mrs. Robert Moser, first; Mrs. Stanley Smith, second, and Mrs. Richard McCarthy, low. Additional prizes went to Mrs. Dennis Forbes and Mrs. Loof.

Corduroy Will Be Popular In School and Dress-Up Fashions

When the school bell rings in September, corduroy will dutifully march back to the classroom with the aid of such designers as Scaasi, Bill Blass, Sophie and Bill Atkinson.

These experts have created high fashion children's clothes for fall that also bring corduroy into the front ranks as a dress-up fabric as well.

One of the reasons for this is that "shape" is most important in children's clothes this year, and corduroy supplies the body required. "The Shape" is almost anything that doesn't have a nipped in, clearly defined waistline. In dresses, this means A-lines, H-lines, skimmies and shifts, the Empire look and hip-touching overblouses.

This time around, children will be dressed to look their age rather than miniatures of their elders. There is much simple elegance in their fashions, and as more and more top designers go into children's wear, fine touches are replacing gaudy gimmicks.

For dressy wear, pinwale comes in for its share of the limelight in crisp berry reds and handsome pastels which have the feeling of Victorian elegance.

The sportive look is represented, too, for the school set and is especially good in wide wale corduroy.

And riding in on the crest of the sportive wave for youngsters are flat shoes with grown-up styling instead of the classic Mary Janes and hats that are styled to go farther afield than church on Sundays.

Small lettuce cups (inner leaves) holding tartar sauce make a pleasant and delicious garnish for fried or broiled fish.

Corduroy will be on the social scene in children's clothing for fall. This wide wale skimmie by Helen Lee is done in the practical fabric and features side tab belts and horizontal front panel.

Miss Burch Is Honoree at Bridal Shower

Miss Donna Burch, Aug. 24 bride-elect of Edward Origiesen, was guest of honor at a recent miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Floyd Bennett who was assisted by Mrs. John McLennan and Miss Sharon LeFevre.

Party guests included friends and Dixon Home Telephone Company office co-workers of Miss Burch; her grandmothers, Mrs. Roy Burch and Mrs. Daniel Wiker, Sterling, and Mrs. Elvin Burch and Mrs. George Origiesen, mothers of the honoree and her fiancé.

Appropriate games planned by the hostesses provided entertainment and photographs were taken as Miss Burch was assisted in opening gifts by Miss Linda Bennett, Miss Mary Jo Riser and Miss Jan Bovey.

The pink linen covered serving table held a centerpiece of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums arranged with pink tapers, and refreshments included punch poured by Mrs. Rush Bose, pink and white candy mints and individual white cakes decorated with miniature turquoise bells.

Bumpy Road of Love

Let's concede that romance is wonderful.

It is obviously popular, is undoubtedly here to stay, and nobody in his right mind is going to knock it.

But lovers, PLEASE—not behind the wheel of a moving car in today's traffic. There just has to be a better—and safer—place to neck and nuzzle!

Yet there is increasing evidence that the driver's seat is replacing the davenport, the park bench and even the movie balcony as a favorite sparking spot.

No one has any figures so far to show how many accidents have been caused because a driver was smooching instead of steering and wowing instead of watching. But you don't have to be a safety expert to know that high horsepower love can be lethal.

Let's forget any bad taste involved and consider the problem from the standpoint of safety alone.

Surely no one can seriously believe that a young lover—or even an older one—can keep his mind on traffic when he has at least one arm around a cuddling cutie and is driving cheek to cheek.

If he can, he just ain't much of a lover!

If he can't he ought to get out of the driver's seat.

What to do about the problem?

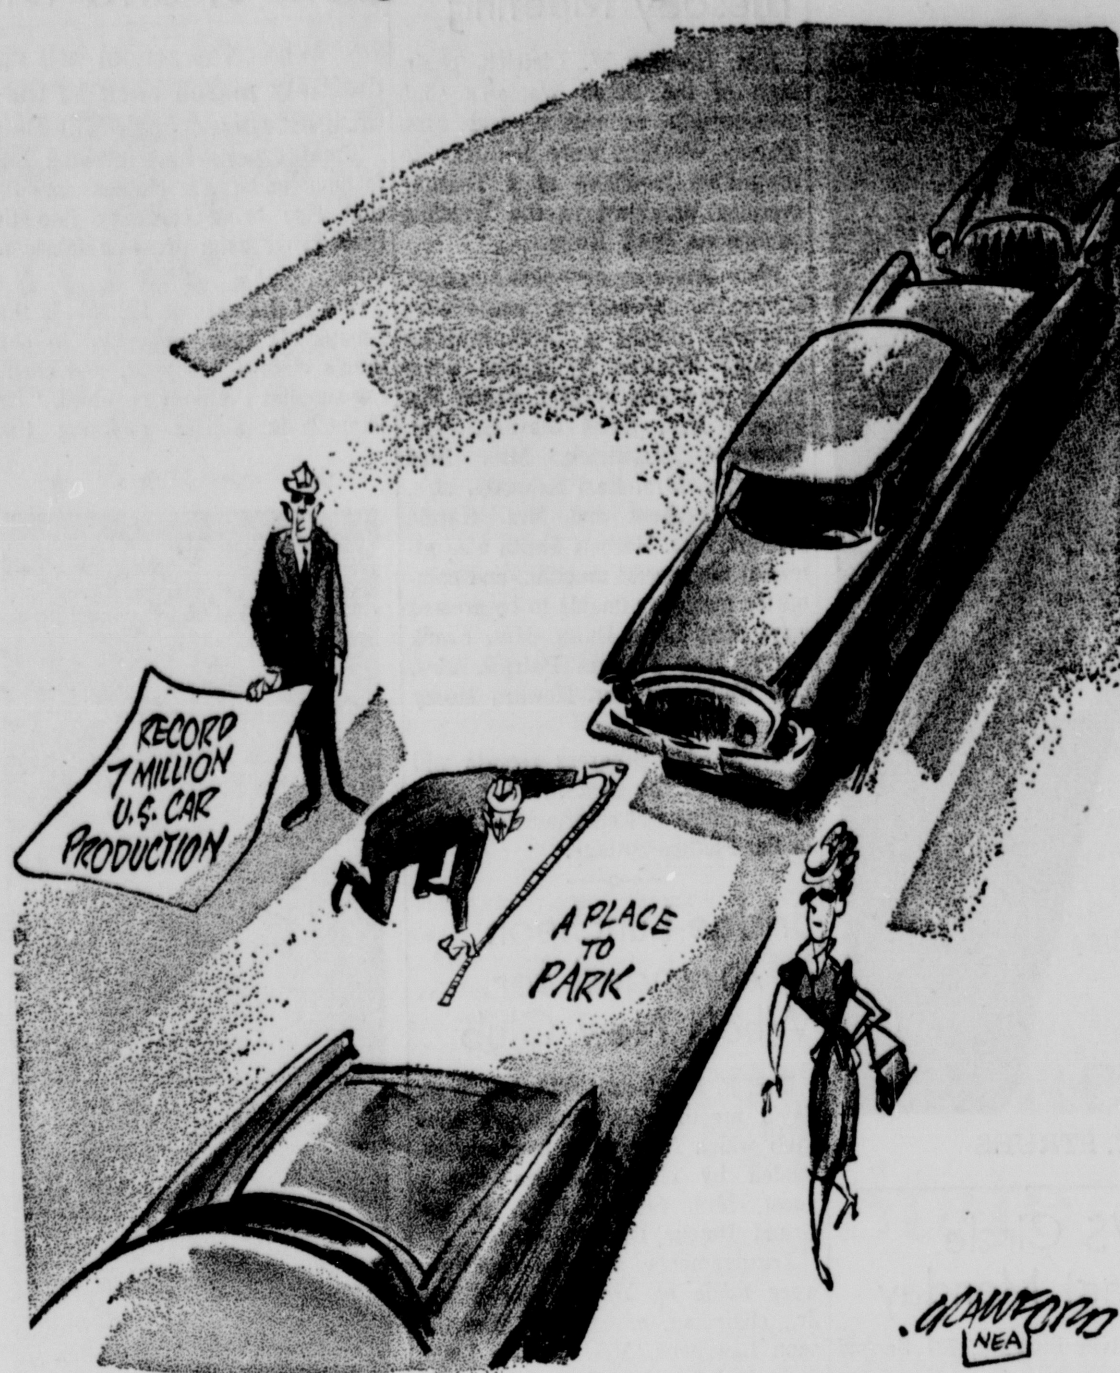

Legislation? Let's face it, you can't outlaw love. You would have to put a traffic officer in every car and keep him there as a chaperone. For unlike alcohol, romance doesn't show up on the breath in a balloon test or in a traffic spot-check.

Seatbelts? Do you think these lovebirds would use 'em—unless someone invents one that will buckle the lovers cozily together?

Public opinion and education? Probably the best hope. If only a fraction of these immature exhibitionists could be persuaded that they are inviting death and disaster for themselves and others, and looking cheap and silly as they do it, it would be a big step in the right direction.

Or we might pass a law that every driver and passenger must sit in an individual bucket seat. That might just do it!

"It's Going to Be a Tight Squeeze!"

Hal Boyle
Endures
An Ordeal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—One of life's little ordeals to most wives is feeling their husbands never listen to them.

"I could talk to my husband until I was blue in the face, and he'd never hear a word I say"—so runs the complaint.

Actually, this is an exaggeration, as are most things that wives say. The fact is that the average husband listens a lot to his wife. This can be detected by the surprised look on his face when she finally stops talking.

Or, it is sometimes shown by an offhand remark he may drop while at lunch with his office cronies.

Such as: "Well, guess what asinine idea my wife has now. You wouldn't believe me if I told you. She wants me to buy a two-seated lawnmower so we can cut the grass together."

Most husbands merely are playing possum when they appear deaf to what their wives are saying. Partly it's a matter of self-defense.

It is also caused by a basic difference between the way men and women use conversation.

A man feels he thinks a situation through silently and then puts his message into words. But he believes a woman most of the time only uses words as a camouflage to hide her real thoughts—if any. So why listen?

To him, feminine conversation is like a waterfall, full of more sound than sense. But he is also well aware that, like a waterfall, it has the long slow inescapable power of erosion. It will achieve its purpose, however long it takes.

Most husbands also have a conviction that their wives never start a conversation except with a hidden motive—to get a fellow to do something he doesn't want to do.

That's why a husband is instantly wary when his wife switches off the television set, and says: "Henry, talk to me."

Trapped, Henry leans back and waits. Grinly he vows this time to listen.

Her oral waterfall begins. His wife tells him about her quarrel with the grocer, the naughty words their son learned at camp, how she fixed the broken attic fan with a bent hairpin, singlehanded, the time on their vacation 12 years ago when he drove off and left her in a filling station restroom, what's wrong with his relatives and what's right with hers, and 10 good reasons why he has to earn more money if they aren't to wind up in the poorhouse.

Finally, as her countenance turns a bright indigo, Henry puts his palm over her mouth and shuts her off.

"I did it at last!" he shouts triumphantly.

"Did what?" she mumbles through his hand.

"I let you talk yourself blue in the face—and I heard every single word you had to say."

That's what Henry thinks. But when he removes his hand, he finds she has a few thousand left.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old boy who hopes you can solve my problem or lead me to someone who will.

My voice is high-pitched and weak. I sound like a girl. It has always been this way, but somehow it seems to be getting worse. I'm becoming so self-conscious about it that I never answer the phone unless I absolutely have to. This is not my imagination, Ann. People are always mistaking me for my younger sister. Operators frequently say, "Yes, Ma'am."

I hate to speak in class because of my voice. My grades slipped last year because I'd rather shake my head no than to give the right answer.

People say I'm not bad looking. I have a good build, am a neat dresser and have a pleasant personality, but my voice is ruining my life. Can you suggest help for me? — DAVID

Dear David: First go to a doctor and find out if there is something organically wrong. If you get a clean bill of health ask the doctor to suggest a speech clinic. You can strengthen your vocal cords just as you can strengthen other parts of your body.

Voice lessons will give you confidence. Your insecurity is a major part of your problem.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter about the neighbor with 38 cats was too much. These people never had it so good. Please ask them if they would like to trade houses with us.

For five years we have lived next door to a character who has parlayed two poodles into 48 dogs of different sizes, colors and breeds (German Schnauzers, Brittany Spaniels and Toy Poodles). This is asking a great deal of a five-room bungalow.

The enterprise is advertised as follows in the local paper:

"Stud service, clipping, and puppies available." The stench is unbearable especially on hot days when the wind is from the south. The yapping and barking is enough to drive a person to the brink, which is where I am at the moment.

Yes, we have complained to the authorities and the situation has been investigated. But it was decided that the people are operating within the law since their dogs are a "hobby."

When the ads were presented as evidence that they are also in business, we were told that it is perfectly all right to make money on a hobby.

What do we do next?—DOG TIRED

Dear Tired: Organize the neighborhood for some red-hot political action. If enough of you put heat on the city council or the zoning board you will probably get results.

Dear Ann Landers: This problem concerns my brother Tim who is 11 years old. Or perhaps my mother is the real problem.

Tim is dreadfully overweight. He has been putting on the pounds steadily since he was about eight years old. Now he is so heavy he looks terrible. The boy eats all day long and mom takes delight in getting him to clean his plate. Then she piles on more food. I have told her she should put Tim on a diet and she says, "It's only baby fat. He'll outgrow it."

I'm deeply concerned about this

When your electric light bulbs burn out, try tapping them sharply while they're still in the socket with the current turned on. The tapping makes filament quiver. If the broken ends hit each other, they may fuse together again. We have known incandescent bulbs to be renewed this way as many as six times.

FRIDAY & SATURDAYThe
Doctor
SaysBy WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have been using mineral oil as advised by my doctor each night with good results. I do not swallow it, but use it as an enema. Is this harmful?

A—Your doctor knows more about your special problems than I do. I have repeatedly recommended that small enemas be used instead of laxatives. I would prefer the use of plain warm water, but if you prefer mineral oil or if your doctor thinks it's better for you, there is no harm in using it in this way. I would not, however, advise making the use of any type of enema a nightly routine.

Q—Is it true that in order to do you any good, exercise must be done in the morning on arising?

A—The only general restrictions on exercise I know are: Don't engage in violent exercise for at least 30 minutes after a heavy meal, and don't exercise to the point of over-fatigue. If you are going to exercise a set of muscles you have not been using, you should do the exercises for only a few minutes and increase the amount gradually from day to day. The time of day is thought to be of little or no importance.

Q—I have been having trouble with my eyelids. The doctor calls it blepharitis. It is very painful. Is there a cure and will it affect my vision?

A—Blepharitis is an inflammation of the lids. It often goes with chronic conjunctivitis. It may be due to uncorrected errors of vision, especially farsightedness and astigmatism. It may be due to eyelash and eyelid cosmetics. It should not affect the vision. But, unless it is properly treated, complications that could affect the vision may occur. An eye specialist should be consulted if the present treatment does not clear it up within 10 days.

Q—I am over 50 and am troubled with itching ears and itching eyelids. What causes this and can it be helped?

A—The causes of itching are legion but a common cause of itching of the ears and eyelids is seborrheic dermatitis, a disease that is associated with dandruff and that is vastly improved by controlling the dandruff. This and allergy are the two commonest causes of the kind of itching you have.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Good manners and good grooming are traits every mother tries to instill in her daughter. But equally as important to her happiness is the ability to say "no," graciously but firmly. This knowledge will stand the daughter in good stead all her life.

In the years of dating and courtship a girl's greatest protection is a gentle, but firm, "No"—whether she is being urged to take a drink she has promised her parents she won't take, or go to a questionable place, or fend off a young man with too-ambitious ideas.

Once she's a homemaker, the firm, but gentle, "No" is still important. She uses it on the persistent salesman who is trying to get her to buy something she knows she hasn't any business buying.

She uses it to keep from accepting invitations she doesn't want to accept, from getting herself tangled up in organizations she doesn't really want to join, and also to keep from letting her friends run her life for her.

When she has children, being able to say "No" and making it stick is still important. And so it is throughout her life.

Some women say "No," but are too weak to make it stick. Others

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON — In the news from Washington:
DEBT CEILING: The Senate hurriedly scheduled hearings next week on legislation to keep the national debt ceiling from plunging billions below the actual debt.

Unless Congress acts in time the limit will drop automatically Aug. 31 to $285 billion. By then the Treasury expects the national debt to be more than $307 billion.

Thursday the House passed, 221 to 175, a bill to extend the current temporary $309-billion ceiling through Nov. 30.

RELIEF STUDY: Mothers removed from relief rolls in a recent crackdown on welfare cheaters have been forced to beg, bestow sexual favors and engage in other illicit activities in order to get food and lodging, asserts a research report. The study, conducted by the Bureau of Social Science Research for the District of Columbia, concluded that most of the 50 families studied "were left worse off than before."

Among its examples, the report cited the case of a mother who let a man live with her for $10 worth of food and partial payment of rent. The man has left and "the only source of support she can see is to find another man to move in."

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY: Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said today preliminary figures on juvenile court cases indicate the juvenile delinquency rate skyrocketed last year, increasing more than three times the 4 per cent growth recorded in 1961.

Over the past 10 or 15 years, he told the Senate subcommittee on employment, delinquency rates have increased close to 200 per cent.

Dodd, chairman of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, cited this and other data as he testified in support of a bill to enlarge and extend the juvenile and Youth Offense Control Act of 1961. The measure would continue demonstration and training projects in high delinquency communities across the country.

Horseshoe Tourney Slated in Dixon

Elimination matches to determine the Lee County Horseshoe Pitching Champion are planned in connection with the annual Dixon Chamber of Commerce Ag Days Program, Sept. 6 and 7.

All area communities have been invited to hold eliminations to determine their own local champs. Dixon industries have also been asked to enter their top employee pitcher.

Area city champs will then be pitted against Dixon industrial champs to determine the overall Lee County Champion Horseshoe thrower.

Area cities have been asked to submit the local champ's name to the Dixon Chamber of Commerce before Aug. 31.

All other persons in the Dixon area who wish to enter but are not employees of any of the participating industrial firms can do so by entering in the open division. Entries for the open division must be filed before Aug. 12. Pairings for the open division tournament will be made and the entry in the Tournament of Champs will be made before Aug. 31.

The tournament proper will be held at Dixon's Haymarket Square (across from the new post office) Sept. 6 and 7 beginning at 6 p.m. All matches will be the best two out of three.

Preliminary matches will be held Friday night with the quarter-finals, semifinals and championship matches (best three out of five) slated for Saturday.

Area towns asked to enter their champs in the throw-off are Amboy, Franklin Grove, Lee Center, West Brooklyn, Ashton, Paw Paw, Harmon, Walton, Sublette, Nelson, Eldena, Nachusa, Stewart and Scarborough.

Dixon industrial firms asked to enter are Borden's, Boyd Casket Co., Freeman Shoe Co., Dixon Implement Dealers, Daubert Chemical, Dixon Barbers, Dixon Gas and Oil Companies and Stations, Dixon Publishing, C. J. Glasgow, Hey Brothers, Lawton's Dairy, Lindquist Construction, Rock River Ready Mix, Medusa Cement, Raynor's, Northern Illinois Gas, Public Service, Henry Pratt, Shurhit, C. K. Willett Engineers and State Highway Engineers.

Willie Reints' second place finish in last Saturday night's 100-lap feature race gave the Rochelle rookie just enough points to edge past Harlan (Red) Aase in the season point standings at the Rockford Speedway.

Reints has 163 points to Aase's 162. Trailing the two leaders is Chet Scott of North Park who has 145 points and Jim Birks, Rockford, with 123.

The Rochelle rookie has been the hottest driver at the track the last five weeks. He has won two of the Saturday night features, finished second twice and third once. No other driver at the track has been nearly as consistent in the same period of time.

Aase, Loves Park, led the point

No Pre-Game Info: Players

ATLANTA (AP)—Two former Alabama football players have testified their team was not prepared for an offensive formation employed by Georgia in the 1962 game which a national magazine has said was rigged.

Testimony of the players was brought out Thursday in federal court by attorneys for Wally Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, in an effort to prove that Alabama did not have a pre-game tipoff on the opposing team's plans.

Butts is suing Curtis Publishing Co. for an article in Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post charging that Butts fed data on his team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama. He seeks $10 million damages.

Butts may take the stand today. Attorney William H. Schroder Jr., handling Butts' case, said the 58-year-old Butts would testify if he continued to feel all right.

Charlie Pell, a tackle on the 1962 Alabama team, said his squad had to change its defensive setup in the controversial game after Georgia came out with a split-end formation. "Our coaches in the press box saw what was happening," said Pell.

"We weren't prepared for this formation as to overshifting," he said.

Q. "From Sept. 1 until the Georgia game on Sept. 22, in planning its defense, did the University of Alabama concentrate or not on any two particular formations?"

A. "No, they did not."

Q. "Any three particular formations?"

A. "No, I couldn't say that."

In its defense against the libel suit, Curtis introduced notes which an Atlanta insurance salesman, George P. Burnett, said he wrote while listening to a Butts-Bryant telephone conversation Sept. 13, nine days before the game.

Three Georgia coaches, including head Coach Johnny Griffith, have testified the notes contain descriptions of two basic formations used in the game, won by Alabama 35-0.

Pell said he did not think it would be any advantage to know what formations an opposing team would use.

One of his 1962 teammates, guard Jimmy Sharpe, said Georgia's "slot out" formation in the first quarter of the game surprised Alabama's defense.

Finals Slated In Western Open

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Janis Ferraris of San Francisco and Roberta Albers, Temple Terrace, Fla.—both 16-year-old high school juniors—meet in an 18-hole match today for the Western Junior Girls Golf Championships.

The last time they played each other, Miss Ferraris scored a 4 and 3 victory in the quarter-finals of the 1962 national junior.

The San Francisco champion gained the finals Thursday at the Rockford Country Club by defeating Terry Marinero, Fresno, Calif., 1-up in the morning quarter-finals, then taking medalist Peggy Shane Conley, Spokane, Wash., 1-up.

Miss Albers, a quarter-finalist last year, defeated Susan Cohen, Flossmoor, Ill., 5 and 4, then eliminated Joyce Kazmierski of Detroit, 2-up.

Defending Champ Wins Illiniwek

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Lois Drafke, five-time Illinois state amateur champion, has added her third Illiniwek title to her collection.

The 25-year-old LaGrange star captured her second straight Illiniwek 54-hole championship Thursday with a closing 36-40—76 for a 227 total over the par 34-40—74 Oakcrest Country Club course.

Second place went to Sharon Moran, 20, St. Charles, with 74 for 235, Kay Shaw, 22, LaGrange, was third with 83 for 242.

Rae Ann Wiegert of Rockford took fourth after a sudden death playoff with Mrs. William McMeekan, Bloomington, and Mrs. George Meador, Springfield. They had tied at 244.

Miss Wiegert parred the extra hole while the others bogeyed.

Rock River Stars Down Bureau Valley

ROCHELLE — The Rock Valley Girls' Softball League All-Stars defeated the Bureau Valley League Stars, 4-3, Thursday night here.

The Rock River squad had a no-hitter until the eighth inning when Bureau scored a run. Bureau Valley tallied two more in the ninth.

Dixon players on the Rock River team were Pat Piper, Ace Eddy, Abe Eddy and Paula Henson.

Cubs and Braves To Play Saturday

No Clay, Liston Fight Until '64

NEW YORK (AP)—If Cassius Clay could fight like he can act, brash Cash would be a 1-5 shot over heavyweight champion Sonny Liston instead of a 5-1 underdog.

That "big, ugly bear" Liston and the "prettiest, handsomest" contender Cassius Clay, as Clay himself says, won't get into the ring until some time next year, it was confirmed today. That old devil taxes has the two big earners stymied for 1963.

Meanwhile, Cassius cut himself a record album, titled "I'm The Greatest," and when he got back to his dressing room Thursday night his entourage assured "the greatest" that he truly was "the greatest," and "the greatest himself" agreed wholeheartedly. Actually, he agreed wholeheartedly.

A crowd of about 300 in a recording studio whooped it up as Cassius, clad in a firehouse red jacket, recited in rhyme the dreadful things he was going to do to that "ugly bear Liston."

While the bold young knight from Louisville was slaying the dragon called Liston, his attorney tentatively

SANTO HITS TWO HOMERS Cubs Nip Dodgers; Mets Upset Cards

Ernie Banks Released From Chicago Hospital

By The Associated Press
For Comeback of the Year honors, how about Ron Santo, the Cub clubber who's replaced Ernie Banks as the Chicagoans' entry in the National League power trust?

Santo, handed the cleanup spot in the batting order despite a .227 batting average in 1962, paid another dividend on the gamble Thursday when he hit a pair of homers that powered the Cubs to a 5-4, 10-inning victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Santo hit his first homer in the fifth inning to tie the score, then won it in the 10th with a shot over the left field bleachers that ended the Cubs' four-game losing skid and trimmed the Dodgers' edge over second-place San Francisco to 5 1/2 games.

Santo, who hit .284 in 1961, floundered last year while his confusion was compounded by continually being shuffled in the batting order. He was tabbed for the No. 4 spot during spring training and told "the job's yours."

Once he got the promotion, he started earning it. The 23-year-old right-handed swinger is hitting .295, is tied for fourth place in homers with 20 and is third in runs batted in with 76. Last year he hit 17 homers and drove in 83 runs.

The slumping Banks, meanwhile was released from a hospital and pronounced fit except for a minor infection in his blood stream. The two-time home-run king, hitting a woeful .226, entered the hospital after complaining of fatigue.

St. Louis dropped to third place, six games back, after losing to the New York Mets 3-2 on a home run by former teammate Duke Carmel. Cincinnati got home runs from Frank Robinson and Tommy Harper in a 6-3 decision over Philadelphia and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend blanked Milwaukee 1-0 on six hits. San Francisco and Houston were not scheduled.

The Dodgers scored all their runs on homers in the fifth inning with rookie Al Ferrara connecting before Frank Howard and Moose Skovron hit consecutive pinch-hit homers. Santo tied the score in the bottom of the inning before tagging Larry Sherry for the homer that produced the Cubs 59th victory, equaling their entire 1962 production. The Cubs are fourth, 8 1/2 games off the pace.

With the Mets and Cards tied 2-2, Carmel hit his first homer for the New Yorkers in the eighth inning to give Al Jackson his seventh victory. Charlie James' solo homer gave St. Louis a 2-0 lead before the Mets came back to tie in the fourth on singles by Ron Hunt, Frank Thomas, Carmel and Al Moran. Bobby Shantz was the loser.

Necessity, the mother of invention who sometimes winks at major league managers, has shoved two of her stepchildren into the American League spotlight—Jose Azcue and Gary Peters.

Azcue, whose credits include his failure to hold a job with Kansas City, stole home for Cleveland's first run Thursday night and scored the other after stroking a double to pave the way for a 2-0 victory over Baltimore in which batterymate Dick Donovan pitched a three-hitter.

It was the first steal of the season for the 23-year-old catcher, acquired from the A's along with his .213 major league batting average and immediately handed the No. 1 job at Cleveland when Johnny Romano was sidelined.

At the time, Azcue was the only available receiver. Now Romano's hard-pressed to regain his job, with Azcue hitting a creditable .279 with eight homers and 29 runs batted in.

Peters, who produced a 0-1 record in four previous shots at a major league berth, suddenly has developed into one of the hottest pitchers in the league, winning his sixth straight for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-3 triumph over Kansas City.

The 26-year-old left-hander, kept in the starting rotation by Manager Al Lopez despite a slow start, has posted an 11-5 record and produced an eye-opening 2.07 earned run average.

His latest triumph kept the second-place White Sox eight games behind the first-place New York Yankees, 3-1 winners at Washington.

Third-place Minnesota kept pace with a 3-0 decision over the Los Angeles Angels on Dick Stigman's six-hitter while Detroit belted Boston and Dick Radatz 6-5 in 10 innings.

Azcue singled and came home on the front end of a double steal in the seventh and scored the only other run off Steve Barber, 15-9, on Tito Francona's double in the ninth. Donovan, 7-10, allowed a first-inning single by Luis Aparicio, Russ Snyder's bunt single in the fourth, and a double in the eighth by Jackie Brandt, the only Oriole to reach second base.

Peters was touched for three runs in the first three innings but settled down and permitted only two A's to reach base the rest of the way. Dave Nicholson hit a two-run homer to get the White Sox started and Al Weis cracked a two-run double in the sixth inning to put Chicago ahead to stay 4-3.

Phil Linz got the Yankees off ahead with a fifth-inning homer and they made it 3-0 in the eighth on a single by Tony Kubek, Bobby Richardson's double and a single by Tom Tresh.

Kingdom, Baptist Score Victories

Kingdom-Eldena streaked past WSB-CMA, 12-5, while First Baptist downed Assembly of God in a high scoring game, 19-15, in Dixon Church League play Thursday night at Reynold's Field.

Bob Pitzer, pitching for Kingdom, held WSB-CMA to two runs for the first four innings while being backed up with 12 tallies and some sparkling defensive play including a triple play in the first inning.

Bill Lincoln relieved Pitzer in the fifth with two men on base. Lincoln retired the side after allowing one unearned run.

Mel Geyer, Larry Reinhold, Dale Pitzer, Bob Kreger and Dave Kentner all had two hits for the winners while Paul Hess and Jim Vaile had two hits apiece for the losers.

First Baptist jumped off to an 8-2 lead in the second and increased the margin to 11-2 in the top of the third. Assembly came back to tally seven in the last of third.

Baptist added four more in the fourth and four in the sixth to take the victory. Assembly rallied in the fifth with six runs.

Bernie Baker, Bill Oakes, Bill Appleman and Bob Brainerd all had two hits for First Baptist. Leslie Phelps, Jim Battisti and Bill Hess all had two hits for the losers.

Rockford Doubles Tourney Slated

ROCKFORD — Dixon tennis players will travel to Rockford Saturday to participate in the Northern Illinois Tennis Association Doubles Tournament.

The tournament will be held at the new campus of Rockford College. Doubles teams from Dixon, Sterling, Rockford, Freeport, Clinton, Peru, Ottawa, Crystal Lake, Ashton, Rock Island, East Moline, Aurora, and Elgin are expected to send entries to the annual meet.

Divisions for the tournament are 14 and under, 16 and under and 18 and under for both boys and girls; men's, women's, men over 35 and mixed doubles for men and women.

Clark Slothower and Chiff Fichter appear to be Dixon's strongest men's team. John Underwood and Dale LeProvost figure to be strong in the 18 and under division.

Diane Harvey and Paula Henson will be one of the favorites in the girls' 18 and under division while in the 16 and under division Sharon Huggins and Sharon Van Matre will be ranked toward the top.

The Dixon players will participate in the tourney through the sponsorship of the Dixon Community Chest.

Ward Miller Stars To Play Merchants

The Ward Miller League All-Stars will meet the Dixon Merchants in an exhibition game Sunday at the Shurhit Field. Game time is slated for 2 p.m.

Each Side Compiles Grievance List

(Fourth in a five-part series)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

"CERTAIN PERSONS" and "Some People" fought a war with epithets. "Certain people" acted like well-fed bourgeois social democrats, lording it over true Communists, said Red China. That meant Nikita Khrushchev. "Some people" try to act "like a Buddha," and dictate what is right or wrong for world communism, said Khrushchev. That meant Mao Tse-tung.

To the Chinese—or any dogmatic Communists — Khrushchev was an arch-deviationist, who twisted sacrosanct Leninist theory to suit Soviet national needs.

To Mao, Khrushchev was a peasant upstart, a Johnny-come-lately. Evidently Khrushchev still was an ardent believer in ultimate Red domination of the world. But the Russian people were forcing scriptural changes.

Russians were living better and aiming higher than in the dark Stalin era. A new middle class had arisen with instincts for ownership, initiative and privilege. Russians had contacts with the West, which they openly envied. They wanted the fruits of their labors for their own as well as the next generation.

Why risk attempting direct conquests? Soviet power could influence events and movements. World revolution would be slower in coming, but the U.S.S.R. would be safer, meanwhile.

This was treachery to Red Chinese leaders struggling with a have-not nation, frustrated by their economic dependence on Moscow.

According to Peking, "certain persons" committed sins like these:

—Created new theory, to avoid "facing up to the imperialists."

—Betrayed the "liberation struggle," by which Communists mean revolutionary situations in Asia, Africa and Latin America that can be seized by Communists.

—Absurdly predicted victory through peaceful competition.

—Failed to understand that Lenin regarded war as an extension of politics by other means, and spread fear that the spark from some revolution could start World War III.

—Wielded a stick over other parties, interfered with them, forced them to change leaders, imposed the wrong line on them.

—Even erred about their own backyard, claiming absurdly that Soviet society already was without classes and had emerged from proletarian dictatorship.

And here, according to Moscow, were a few of "some people's" sins: —They encouraged the Communists in tiny, out-of-reach Albania to thumb their noses at the Kremlin.

—Were hopelessly dogmatic, going by book rules, denying any road to Communist power except armed struggle regardless of consequences.

—Refused to recognize that peaceful coexistence meant that the political struggle for world communism would continue.

—Wanted communism advanced by naked military power at every opportunity.

—Fought de-Stalinization as a danger to Communist authority.

Who was right and who was wrong? Both sides claimed to be Leninist. But the Chinese could show that Khrushchev had strayed far from Leninism.

Lenin preached that Communists were obliged to give total support to any revolutionary movement against a non-Communist regime.

Lenin held that temporary alliances with capitalism were all right in backward countries, but Communists should remember that only revolution could put an end to capitalist states.

Existence of the Soviet state "side by side with the imperialist states for a long time is unthinkable," Lenin insisted. One or the other would have to perish. There was no "middle course."

Lenin indicated peaceful coexistence was just a tactic to buy time while Russia was weak. Stalin's peaceful coexistence also was a tactical device. But Khrushchev says his brand is not a tactic at all.

Enraged, the Red Chinese called this capitulating to the West.

For a long time a cloud of ideological semantics shrouded the battle. Essentially, it was a clash of two empires—backward China, afflicted with famines and natural calamities, and the ever more powerful U.S.S.R., whose leaders felt the pressures of a rising, impatient generation.

After the Cuba crisis of October 1962, the battle began to emerge from behind the semantic cloud. Peking accused the Kremlin of cowardly capitulation in agreeing to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cuba. Equally angry, the Kremlin accused Peking of wanting a Soviet-U.S. war, so China could remain on the sidelines and pick up the pieces when the smoke cleared. Pretenses were dropped. The two sides attacked one another by name, pulling no punches.

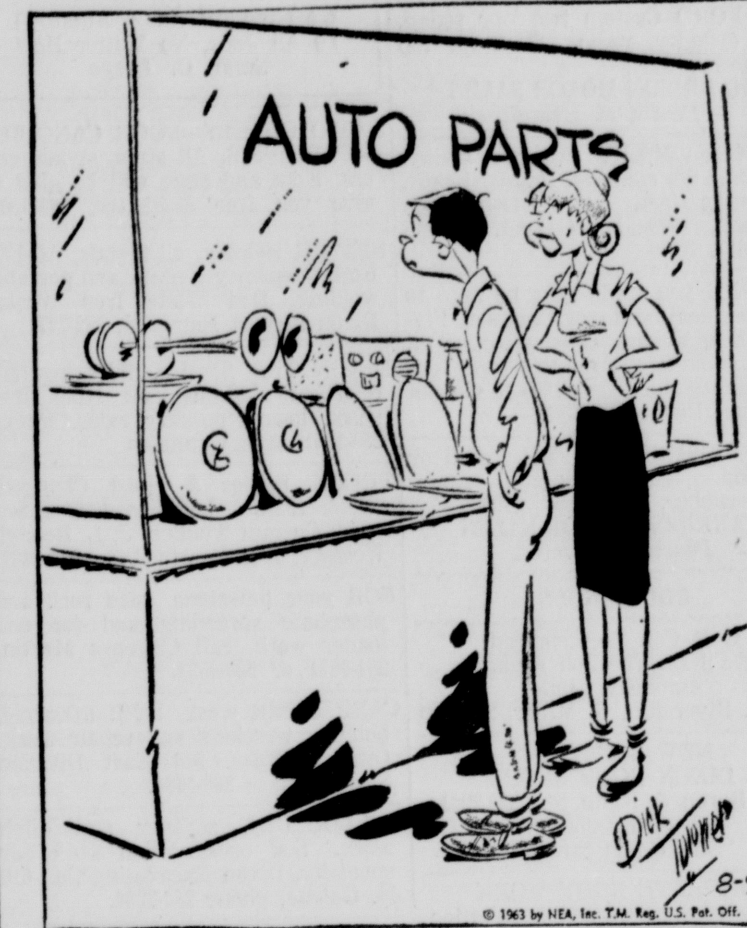

Next: The shattered camp and the prospects.

Deepening Crisis—X

Southern Viewpoint

(EDITOR'S NOTE — What is it like to be a white Southerner today, a man of reason who is trapped by his own instincts and past but who knows integration must come? Tenth in a special Associated Press series on the integration crisis.)

By RELMAN MORIN

ATLANTA (AP)—For 70 years after Reconstruction, every Southerner was born into a segregated society. Segregation was his way of life, deeply rooted in his consciousness. Moreover, it was legal. In 1896, the doctrine of "separate-but-equal" was tested, and the U.S. Supreme Court held it to be constitutional.

Some may have felt twinges of conscience, even so.

Ralph McGill, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution, has written: "The more sensitive Southerner often is self-embarrassed by a realization that he has accepted unquestionably some aspect of his community life which he rejects. . . . But nonetheless, he is a part of what he has met, and been. And the past, in tales of his grandparents, his great-aunts and uncles, has been in his ears from birth."

In 1954, another Supreme Court reversed the earlier ruling. It held that "separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

Southern lawyers and politicians had taken note of a series of court orders that put individual Negroes in some Southern schools, but the man on the street was not prepared for integration.

Overnight, in effect, he was told that he must do a mental about-face, change his attitudes and abandon beliefs he had always held.

Even where the effort was made — nobody can say how many Southerners made it—this was no easy task.

In the South, racial barriers are going down. Schools, other public facilities and business establishments are being desegregated. What are the feelings of the Southerner as he sees the old patterns of life crumbling around him?

There is no one answer.

At one end of the spectrum are men like Govs. George C. Wallace of Alabama and Ross Barnett of Mississippi, fiercely defending the old order. A legion of Southerners applauds them.

At the other are men like Hodding Carter, editor of the Greenville, Miss., Delta-Democrat, Ralph McGill and others who are less well known for their opposition to segregation. Carter and McGill receive bales of letters, some favorable, more abusive.

Between the poles of thought, you find:

—The Southerner who opposes integration, but believes in law and order. Reluctantly, he says the courts must be obeyed.

—The person who says, "We were all getting along fine until outsiders came in and stirred up the Negroes. If the outsiders would go away, the Negroes would be perfectly happy again."

—The man who says that, since the Supreme Court reversed itself once on segregation, it may do so again sometime. He wants the 1954 ruling tested, again and again.

For years, the South has been working aggressively to attract industry. The businessman knows — possibly from experience — that violence will hinder the drive. So, although segregationists, some advocate accommodation with Negro demands.

The situation for the Southern college student often is similar to that of the businessman. It may gall him to see Negroes on the campus. But graduation is more important and he doesn't want to jeopardize that.

Some thoughtful, sincere persons in the South are deeply troubled, wrestling with conscience.

A divinity student candidly acknowledges that he had been strongly prejudiced against Negroes. After he began studying for the clergy, he concluded that he could not reconcile his prejudice with his religion. "It was very difficult but I believe I can say now that I have freed myself from those prejudices," he says.

A woman commenting on racial disturbances in a nearby city, says: "When the troubles started, I tried to imagine myself in the position of a Negro. I tried to see things from this point of view. Frankly, it was a shock. But it still seems to me that if I were a Negro, it would be better to try to elevate my own race, not lose myself in another race."

This dovetails with the position of Southerners who deny any prejudice toward the Negro but say, "Racemixing is not the answer to the problem. For both races, it is better to develop separately."

One man said he is convinced that "idleness" is causing the Negro unrest, North and South.

Negro unemployment, nationally, is more than double the figure for the whites. He said, "I've lived all my life with Negroes and I know that when they're idle they tend to get in trouble. Give them something to do and you won't have all this trouble."

Atlanta has gone further than most Southern cities in desegregating. A waitress in an upper-bracket restaurant says she has seen only one "incident." Two white couples left in the middle of dinner, when Negroes were seated at an adjoining table. How does she feel about waiting on Negroes? "I don't mind," she says. "The kind who come in here are just like anyone else."

However, placard-carrying segregationists picket an Atlanta restaurant that has integrated. This is a painful example of the situation confronting Southern businessmen. They get it in the neck from both sides.

Finally, the Southerner is watching with the keenest interest as Negro demonstrations spread to the North. "Now the Yankees are getting a taste of the problem," he says. "They're going to see that finding a solution isn't as simple as they thought."

Rochelle Soldier In Army Exercise

SPARTANBURG, S.C.—Army Pfc. William B. Larson, son of Mrs. Marie B. Larson, 1067 N. Main, Rochelle, is participating in Exercise Swift Strike III, a U.S. Strike Command exercise in Georgia and North and South Carolina, involving more than 75,000 armed forces personnel.

The exercise pits two task forces against each other in a four-week mock war ending Aug. 16, and includes airborne maneuvers, long-distance airlifts, air-ground support missions and counter guerrilla operations.

Larson, a radio operator in the 586th Signal Company at Fort Irwin, Calif., entered the Army in September 1962 and completed basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Rochelle Township High School and attended the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Getting Ready for the Ogle County Fair ... Antique autos to be featured

Antique Auto Rally Set During Ogle County Fair

OREGON — Michael McCourt, 18 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCourt, and David Landers, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Landers, are seated in a 1912 model T Ford, owned by G. A. Hess, Oregon, grandfather of Michael McCourt.

The two youngsters were watching Hess ready his antique auto for the Annual Antique Auto Rally to be held Aug. 31, at the Ogle County Fair Grounds. Hess and many others will have their antique autos on display for the public to inspect and admire.

Autos from Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and Indiana are expected to be on display in the center field of the Fair Grounds during the day.

The Ogle County Fair will be held Aug. 31, Sept. 1-2 and will be the 110th annual fair for Ogle County.

Friday night, Aug. 30, will be family night when children will be given rides for 15 cents. Saturday, from 1 to 4 p.m. will be the antique auto rally and trophies will be awarded in all classes. Saturday night will be the W.S.M. Grand Ole Opry from Nashville, Tenn., with stars like the Willis Brothers, Jimmy Newman, Justin Tubb and others being featured.

Sunday will be harness racing at 1 p.m., with three races run with two heats to each race. Free acts will perform between each race. Sunday night at 8 p.m. Buss Carson in person with his Hollywood Golden Horses Thrill Show, Cavalcade of Stars of radio, TV and movies, direct from the nation's film capital will present the program. Features will be a 5-horse liberty drill, Roman fire-jumping horses (2 teams), French Poodles and Dalmatians in a rope jumping act, dancing horses, trick riders and clowns.

Monday, which is Labor Day, there will be another day of horse racing to start at 1 p.m. There will be another three races with two heats for each race.

Grand Ole Opry Star Cousin Jody will be featured in the evening performance on Monday. The show will start at 8 p.m. Along with Cousin Jody will be Carl Belew, Jerry Johnson and the Country Cousins.

The premium list book for the Ogle County Fair is published and may be obtained from the office of the Ogle County Republican-Reporter.

Before-dinner party appetizer: slices of bacon wrapped around large stuffed olives and broiled. Keep the bacon in place during the broiling with toothpicks.

Kerner Tax Hike Vetoes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner has vetoed a one-cent increase in the state cigarette tax—the only tax boost passed by the 1963 Illinois Legislature.

Kerner also approved Thursday bills to permit expenditure of $9 million for construction and improvement of recreational facilities at state parks.

Half the $13 million in annual revenue from the proposed cigarette tax boost would have been used a patient on Floor 13 of the University of Illinois Research Hospital, Chicago. He is a third grade pupil at Jefferson School.

to expand recreational sites and the other half would have been earmarked for the general revenue fund.

Kerner said he had made a commitment "to the people of the state that I would neither seek nor approve any new or additional general taxes."

The governor is expected to make his 1963 no-tax increase stand a major part of his re-election campaign.

Kerner said that outdoor facilities will be enlarged through bills he approved authorizing issuance of revenue bonds for that purpose. The bonds will be retired from fees paid by users of the facilities.

He also signed into law a bill taking $420,000 a year from motor fuel tax funds, received from gasoline used in boats, and spending it on boating facilities and waterways.

Kerner said he will approve $9 million in appropriations for Illinois lakes, land acquisition and state park improvements.
